Sayyid Al-Hakeem Calls to Adopt Modern Methods, Technologies for Security Work

His Eminence Sayyid Al-Hakeem, Head of the National State Powers' Alliance, received Iraqi National Security Adviser Mr. Qasim Al-Aboudi and discussed with him the latest security and military developments, calling for vigilance and caution regarding any attempt by terrorism to catch its breath again, and explaining the importance of sending reassuring messages among the Iraqi components.

H.E. stressed the importance of sustaining and developing intelligence work, with the importance of coordination between security units and the regional and international security system, calling for adopting modern methods and modern technology in security work.